*"I am responsible. When anyone, anywhere, reaches out for help,
I want the hand of A.A. always to be there. And for that: I am responsible."*

AN UNDESERVED GIFT

An opportunity came up for me to go on vacation to Ireland and stay for a month in the countryside. I wasn't too keen to go at first because I knew that it might get in the way of my drinking. But I went, taking my bottle with me. One thing led to another and I got so lost in my drinking that I missed my return date to the U.S. I remember writing to my mother and trying to explain myself, apologize for everything I'd put the family through. I realized that if I managed to stop, it would be great for my mom, and that was a bonus. But I stopped for myself - you have to, not because the government is telling you to, or your family is hassling you or your girlfriend wants you to; you don't stop for other people's benefit. I had to stop for me.

Every time my bottle was finished, I was ill. The usual withdrawal symptoms: inability to sleep, cramps, leg pains, feeling spaced out, no energy whatsoever, feeling incredibly weak, the dreaded cold shivers – just everything that goes along with delirium tremens. But I kept active and busy. I didn't just lie down in a bed for three weeks. I was doing stuff, like going out and getting wood, gardening, tidying the house, cooking, making tapes... in fact, I think what really saved me was making tapes! It was pre-MP3 days, I had a load of CDs with me, and I would weld tapes together from all these tunes that I had. I was obsessive about getting the right edits and this somehow became the project that I sunk a lot of energy into. You know, I still have those tapes today! I was trying to keep busy, keep myself totally occupied, which is really difficult when you have no energy, but I somehow found it and kept myself going. My friends were very sympathetic to my state.

I was introduced to Alcoholics Anonymous by a kind and understanding psychologist who simply suggested, "it can't hurt." In this gentle way, I unknowingly made a start to begin my life again. AA taught me not only how to not die, but how to live. I stopped drinking, got healthy, and finally fixed my rotting soul.

When I came home, I knew what a tremendous battle I'd fought to get off my addiction. It was an impossible thing to do alone, and now I have been blessed with too much to lose to ever go back. I sometimes wonder why I was blessed with the tremendous gift that sobriety is, as I know I certainly don't deserve it. Someone out there had mercy on me, and I will be forever grateful for the second chance I've been given.

My life has been transformed. What keeps me on the straight and narrow is the fact that I can look in the mirror and I've got my self-respect back. I'm not covered in filth and shame anymore. I've got my intellect back, I'm interested in art, in music; I've taught myself photography and Photoshop. These are things I certainly wouldn't have been able to do while I was using! I've got my dignity back and my freedom, things that I thought I would never have again, but I have thanks to the program of Alcoholics Anonymous.

EXPERIENCE, STRENGTH, AND HOPE – Snowbirds!

To all snowbirds, welcome back! We missed you!

Any of you who wish to be on the 12-Step list for the time you are with us, please contact the Intergroup office. We can always use your help with this important work. Thank you!

FROM THE ARCHIVES – Endless Summer Group

We have received a group history from Sharon R. on the Endless Summer Group that meets at the Almous Club on Monday through Friday at 3 pm. This group was formed October 12, 2012 by Barb H., Jerry C., and Ron G. The early members were Barb, Jerry, Ron and Josh W. The Present membership is 2.

The group was started to provide a “newcomer” with a friendly, slow Big Book Study. A paragraph is read and then the discussion goes around the room giving each person an opportunity to share on the paragraph before going to the next reading. The newcomer is especially encouraged to share on how they relate to the paragraph. In this way the members feel that the Big Book “comes alive “ for the participants.

This group has now been meeting for 3 years. It is important to do a group history early in its existence because memories fade and information becomes hazy as time passes. We will gladly publish any group histories submitted to the Archives.

The "Pink Can" - Bringing AA into Correctional Facilities

The "Pink Can" idea originated in 1957 to provide funds to purchase literature & books for incarcerated alcoholics. The idea was to pass the can during meetings to request spare change. In order for it to "stand out" the can was painted "Pink". The idea continued to grow and is the way use to buy literature & books for AA meetings inside Correctional Facilities.

Corrections is supported by these voluntary contributions to the "Pink Can". It is the basket that cannot be passed at a meeting inside the Correctional Facility.

In Volusia County the funds allow us to give inmates the "Mini Edition" of Alcoholics Anonymous and provide literature. Volusia Corrections brings meetings to the following: Volusia County Branch Jail, Volusia County Corrections Facility, Tomoka Correctional Institution, Tomoka Work Camp, and Reality House. The inmates greatly appreciate the contributions and efforts that have been made.

Please help Corrections meet the demand to help incarcerated alcoholics in achieving sobriety by making a contribution the next time you see this "Pink Can".

Please contact Stephen S, Corrections Liaison, at the Intergroup Office to get a "Pink Can" and literature about corrections efforts for your group.

Donations in the form of new / used soft cover Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions & the Big Book are in need.

THE A.A. TRADITION TWELVE

Anonymity is the spiritual foundation of all our traditions, ever reminding us to place principles before personalities.

Anonymity, as we observe it in A.A., is at root a simple expression of humility. When we use the Twelve Steps to recover from alcoholism, we are each trying to achieve real humility, to put our self-respect on a solid base of truth, rather than on fantasies about ourselves. When we use the Twelve Traditions to work together in A.A., we are all trying to achieve humility; as individual members, by recognizing our true place in A.A.; as a fellowship, by recognizing A.A.'s true place in the world.

Tradition One reminds each of us that we are not recovering on our own, that we should control our personal desires and ambitions in order to guard the unity of our group and our Fellowship. We ought not (Tradition Two) fancy ourselves as big shots in A.A., no matter what office we hold.

All of us are just alcoholics together, and in our groups we are not entitled (Tradition Three) to rule on the qualifications of other alcoholics seeking the same help that we've had. Yes, a group needs humility too. It may make its name public, but in the spirit of anonymity it should see the Whatever Group as merely part of a bigger whole (Tradition Four), careful in every enterprise to consider the welfare of all the other groups that make up A.A. In both group and individual activities, we should remember what the full name of our Fellowship is. It does not represent any established religion, nor is it a new religion. We are not evangelists or gurus out to save humanity; we are anonymous alcoholics trying to help other alcoholics (Tradition Five).

In the rising battle against alcoholism, we ought not let our pride in A.A. mislead us into linking our Fellowship with other agencies, in order to bid for a share in their power, prestige, and funds. If we keep Traditions Six and Seven in mind, we will instead direct all our efforts toward A.A.'s own unique purpose.

When we go on Twelfth Step calls, we should not tell ourselves how noble we are for doing such valuable work without pay. The meaning of Twelfth Step work cannot be measured in money (Tradition Eight), and we have received advance pay for it, in coin of far greater worth—our very lives. In the same Tradition, it's suggested that a service center maintains A.A. humility by paying its employees decent wages—rather than considering A.A. so virtuous an outfit that employment there is a favor.

When we are given special responsibilities within A.A., Tradition Nine defines these as opportunities to serve, not titles to flaunt. The humility of the Fellowship itself is safeguarded by Tradition Ten, with the refusal to set ourselves up as general authorities, swinging our collective weight around in the public arena.

We do not want to sell our program as a "surefire remedy" in the extravagant terms of a promotional campaign (Tradition Eleven), or dramatize it by identifying noted people in A.A., thereby implying that recovery has been for each of us an individual accomplishment. As Tradition Twelve reminds us, we have something stronger than our human personalities to rely on. Our principles come first—and they are not our own invention. They reflect eternal spiritual values. With this Tradition, both as individuals and as a fellowship, we humbly acknowledge our dependence on a power higher than ourselves.
