*"I am responsible. When anyone, anywhere, reaches out for help,
I want the hand of A.A. always to be there. And for that: I am responsible."*

ONE DAY AT A TIME

I was 32 years old when I came to AA. I was desperate, suffering from a disease that I didn't really know about or understand. I didn't think I could ever give away the alcohol; it was progressively my world for about 20 years, then the good times got fewer until there were absolutely none. I was heavily involved in sport during my teenage years & early 20s, which slowly & insidiously went as I drunk more. I became a spectator, critic & someone I despised in earlier years. I was hopelessly alcoholic but still kept drinking experiencing DTs & shakes. Alcohol dictated where I lived, where I went, who I hung out with, and when I would turn up for work (if I did). Then came unemployment because employers or firms didn't want to hire an unreliable drunk that used all his sick days & more. There was the loss of driver's license, two bouts of alcoholic hepatitis and nights in local jail cells, broken relationships, and relocations. The list goes on!

I used all sorts of excuses to justify my drinking, why I was late for work or why I didn't turn up at all, why I didn't turn up for meals or family gatherings (unless drunk), why I couldn't keep a simple promise, etc., etc. Then I thought I never hurt anyone except myself. Boy how wrong I was.

I stole time from my employers or only worked at 25% if that, due to being hung over or still drunk or they couldn't rely on me to turn up. I stole my parents' hopes and dreams, as well as their peace of mind because I couldn't be honest as long as I was still drinking. When I first came into Alcoholics Anonymous, desperate and out of answers, the most honest thing I had admitted in years was "I'm Steven, and I'm an alcoholic."

I heard it said by a member of A.A. early in my sobriety, "that honesty is a bit like being pregnant, you can't be half pregnant." It's rather ironic that now when I want to tell the odd fib "that guy" with "that saying" always come to mind and my conscience kicks in.

FROM THE ARCHIVES – Re-Education for the Abnormal Drinker

We have in the Archives a copy of The Central Bulletin, an AA newsletter published in Akron, Ohio in November 1942. One of the articles is “Common Sense Re-Education for the Abnormal Drinker” written by Robert V. Seliger, M.D. John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, MD. It contains 35 points needed to “re-educate” yourself as an abnormal drinker. Here are just a few of the suggestions:

1. You must be convinced from your own experience that your reaction to alcohol is so abnormal that any indulgence for you constitutes a totally undesirable and impossible way of life.
4. You must clearly understand that once a person has passed from normal to abnormal drinking you can never learn to control drinking again.
9. You must understand that alcoholic ancestry is an excuse, not a reason for abnormal drinking.
11. You must fully resolve to tell the truth and the whole truth, without waiting to be asked, to the person who is trying to help you - and must be equally honest with yourself.
16. You must learn to be tolerant of other people’s mistakes, poor judgment and bad manners, without becoming disturbed emotionally.
17. You must learn to disregard the dumb advice and often dumber questions of relatives and friends, without becoming disturbed emotionally.
22. You must realize that in giving up drinking you should not regard yourself as a hero or martyr, entitled to make unreasonable demands that your family give in to your every whim and wish.
25. You must learn how to relax naturally, both mentally and physically, without the use of the narcotic action of alcohol.
30. You must not be discouraged by a feeling of discontent during the early stages of sobriety, but must turn this feeling into incentive to action, which will legitimately satisfy your desire for self-expression.
35. You must never feel that any of these suggestions are in any way inconsequential, or secondary to business, play, or what not; and must conscientiously observe every one of them, day in and day out.

You can read all 35 suggestions in this article in the Archives at Intergroup.

EXPERIENCE, STRENGTH, AND HOPE - From the Editor

The time has come for the Spirit of Rotation to continue. My term as the Editor of the High & Dry will be concluding at the end of 2015. We are currently looking for someone to take over the position. It is a 2 year, non voting position on the Steering Committee of the Volusia County Intergroup. If you have knowledge of Microsoft Word and familiarity with Microsoft Excel, a willingness to serve, and a few extra hours per month, you are qualified. Please email me at Editor@aadaytona.org for more information.

I can’t believe how the time has flown by. I have learned about you, about me, about sobriety, about AA, about and so much more in these short years and I am excited to pass that along to someone new. Thank you, Volusia County, for the privilege to serve.

- In Love and Service, Amanda R., Editor

I have to do the right thing or suffer the consequences, & to be honest I usually do the right thing or I find myself making amends. Desperation got me to A.A. & gratitude is now keeping me here because I am experiencing a lot of the promises that are written of in the Big Book & because this is a practical plan of action both inside & outside of AA. I know if this didn't work I would not keep going to A.A. but the proof is in my life today I can function one day at a time without drinking all because of taking & working the Steps under the direction of a good sponsor. It took awhile for me to get honest & surrender but I have hung around long enough for the miracle of A.A. to work.

I don't do this program perfectly & never will, I just try to do it to the best of my ability. Sometimes I fall short & other times I do alright, what I've learnt from experience is to just put one foot in front of the other, through good times and bad and if I'm having problems I pray to my God for the willingness to do the next right thing. That could be to ring my sponsor, get to a meeting, help another alcoholic, read the Big Book or follow another recovering alcoholic's example. Also it's been my experience that if I place my sobriety 1st everything else falls in to place.

-Anonymous

THE A.A. TRADITION ELEVEN

Our public relations policy is based on attraction rather than promotion; we need always maintain personal anonymity at the level of press, radio and films.

Alcoholics who have recovered through our program are themselves the strongest attraction that A.A. has. When people are asked what led them to seek A.A. help, the answer given most often is: "An A.A. member." Their chances would have been slim if all of us had remained completely in hiding. But many of us have chosen to tell our friends, neighbors, employers, co-workers, doctors, or spiritual advisers that we are in A.A.—and when we do so, we are not breaking our anonymity in the meaning of this Tradition.

Suppose a sick alcoholic never has the good fortune to meet an A.A. How is such a person going to find us? The search will be difficult if the local group thinks it should be anonymous, too. The Tradition is talking about "personal anonymity," remember? Alcoholics will not be attracted to A.A. if they don't know that it exists or if they have distorted, unfavorable impressions of its members or its program.

Giving the general public an accurate picture of A.A. is the chief job of our public information committees. In addition, they often carry the message to certain groups—from police officers to personnel directors—whose work includes contact with active alcoholics.

Information about A.A. is being offered to the public through all the communications media, in print and over the air. On radio, it's easy to guard members' anonymity, of course. But TV (not in wide use when the Traditions were written) is another matter. According to a Conference opinion, members are breaking their anonymity when they are identified on TV as A.A.'s and their faces are shown—whether or not their names are given. And yet this medium, with its vast audiences, cannot be ignored.

Different techniques have been employed to preserve anonymity on TV: masks; screens; backlighting that shows A.A.'s only as silhouettes; camera angles showing them only from the back. The "shadow" method diagrammed here is simple, relaxed—and appropriate. For we are not selling personalities—we are explaining A.A. Personal anonymity breaks in the public media not only may discourage timid prospects; they may threaten the anonymity-breaker's own sobriety, by violating the spirit of the A.A. program and Traditions.

COMMITTEES, COORDINATORS AND INTERGROUP UPDATES

Office Coordinator's Report by Mike D: There were a total of 104 calls and 203 visits to Intergroup for September 2015. Three people were looking for a ride to a meeting. One person wanted to talk. All calls were turned over to 12 Step Volunteers.

Archives Committee by Carolyn C.: Doing the usual: scanning, filing, keeping the notebooks up to date. We brought the Archives to the Oldtimers Dinner, October 24.

Phone Army Coordinator by Julie G: There were no calls reported for September.

- * In order to keep our tax-exempt status up to date we need to have all data from the Phone Army volunteers. Please remember to send reports and we are always looking for more volunteers!

12 Step Coordinator by Susan W: We are still looking for 12 Step Volunteers in all areas. If you would like to be put on the list, please contact the Intergroup Office. A form is also available on the Internet that can be printed and mailed in or faxed.

Corrections Committee Coordinator: We are always in need of volunteers willing to make a commitment to take recovery into the prisons.

AA Corrections is desperately in need for Volunteers for meetings at both the Volusia County Branch Jail and Correctional Facility. New volunteer training is currently ONLY at the beginning of December. This training is needed to receive a badge to enter the Volusia County Facilities for 2016. For information or questions please contact Corrections Liaison - Stephen S. at the Intergroup Office

High 'n Dry Editor by Amanda R: Please send articles, stories and/or any feedback to editor@aadaytona.org I welcome your comments and suggestions.

Also, there has been a lot of discussion regarding the Bylaws of Intergroup lately. If anyone would like a copy of the Bylaws, please email me and I will be happy to send them to you.

Congratulations to our newly elected Intergroup Officers! Secretary – Judith; Trustee – Rich; Trustee – Bill
