AA's Responsibility Statement

"I am responsible. When anyone, anywhere, reaches out for help, I want the hand of A.A. always to be there. And for that: I am responsible."

The Man Who Carried the Message of Sobriety to Bill W.

On a September day in 1934, a worried man named Ebby T. stood before a judge in Bennington, Vermont, while being admonished for a drinking escapade that had led to his arrest. Ebby would be permitted to go home, but he was to return to the court on Monday after solemnly promising the judge he wouldn't drink over the weekend. In the meantime, a new friend named Rowland H. was ready to appear in court to take responsibility for Ebby. What neither the judge nor Rowland knew was that demons inside Ebby were screaming for a drink. At the family summer home twenty-five miles north in Manchester, he had bottles of ale stashed in the cellar and he couldn't wait to get at them. When he reached home he raced to the cellar to end the agony that was tearing him apart. But as Ebby started to open a bottle of ale, he was stopped cold by a rush of guilt. He had promised the judge he wouldn't drink and he had to keep the promise. After a fierce struggle, he took the bottles over to a neighbor. Doing this gave him peace, and it was his last attempt to drink for two years and seven months. This action may also have been one of the greatest victories in A.A. history, because Ebby was the man who carried the Oxford Group principles and a promise of sobriety to A.A. co-founder Bill W. If Ebby had started drinking again that weekend, it's doubtful that he would have kept his court date or been given another chance by the judge. It is unlikely that he could have maintained the sobriety that enabled him to call on a besotted Bill W. a few months later. Despite the drinking troubles that overtook him later, Ebby was a hero during those critical months when he sponsored Bill. But, Bill couldn't have done it without that visit from Ebby. A.A. members who study the history of the Fellowship agree that Ebby was a wonderful and caring sponsor.

THE TWELVE STEPS AND THE TWELVE TRADITIONS

Step One

“We admitted we were powerless over alcohol – that our lives had become unmanageable.”

Powerless

“It is no coincidence that the very first Step mentions powerlessness: An admission of personal powerlessness over alcohol is a cornerstone of the foundation of recovery. I’ve learned that I do not have the power and control I once thought I had. I am powerless over what people think about me. I am powerless over having just missed the bus. I am powerless over how other people work (or don’t work) the Steps. But I’ve also learned I am not powerless over some things. I am not powerless over my attitudes. I am not powerless over negativity. I am not powerless over assuming responsibility for my own recovery. I have the power to exert a positive influence on myself, my loved ones, and the world in which I live.”

Source: Daily Reflections, January 3, p. 11

The Obsession and the Answer

The Obsession: “The idea that somehow, some day, he will control and enjoy his drinking is the great obsession of every abnormal drinker. The persistence of this illusion is astonishing. Many pursue it into the gates of insanity or death. The Answer: Alcoholism, not cancer, was my illness, but what was the difference? Was not alcoholism also a consumer of the body and mind? Alcoholism took longer to do its killing, but the result was the same. So, I decided, if there was a great Physician who could cure the alcoholic sickness, I had better seek him at once.” Source: As Bill Sees It, p. 194

Tradition One

“Our common welfare should come first; personal recovery depends upon A.A. unity.”

TRADITIONS CHECKLIST from the A.A. Grapevine. These questions were originally published in the AA Grapevine in conjunction with a series on the Twelve Traditions that began in November 1969 and ran through September 1971. While they were originally intended primarily for individual use, many AA groups have since used them as a basis for wider discussion.

Practice These Principles...

1. Am I in my group a healing, mending, integrating person, or am I divisive? What about gossip and taking other members’ inventories?
2. Am I a peacemaker? Or do I, with pious preludes such as “just for the sake of discussion,” plunge into argument?
3. Am I gentle with those who rub me the wrong way, or am I abrasive?
4. Do I make competitive AA remarks, such as comparing one group with another or contrasting AA in one place with AA in another?
5. Do I put down some AA activities as if I were superior for not participating in this or that aspect of AA?
6. Am I informed about AA as a whole? Do I support, in every way I can, AA as a whole, or just the parts I understand and approve of?
7. Am I as considerate of AA members as I want them to be of me?
8. Do I spout platitudes about love while indulging in and secretly justifying behavior that bristles with hostility?
9. Do I go to enough AA meetings or read enough AA literature to really keep in touch?
10. Do I share with AA all of me, the bad and the good, accepting as well as giving the help of fellowship?

FROM THE ARCHIVES

In the notebook with small cards is one which gives the meanings of the words in the Serenity Prayer. The card reads as follows:

How many of us say this little prayer at the start of an AA meeting and promptly forget it? This is the most powerful short prayer in the world today. Nothing can replace the Lord's Prayer, of course, but these words of the Serenity Prayer pack a lot of power and meaning.

GOD - With the saying of this word we are admitting the existence of a higher power.

GRANT - With the repeating of the second word we are admitting that this higher power is an authority who can BESTOW or GIVE.

ME - We are asking something for ourselves for the Bible states "Ask and it shall be given." It is not wrong to ask for betterment of yourself, for with the improvement of character people around you will be made happier.

SERENITY - We are asking for CALMNESS, COMPOSURE and PEACE in our lives which will enable us to think straight and govern ourselves properly.

TO ACCEPT - We are resigning ourselves to conditions as they are right now.

THINGS I CANNOT CHANGE - We are accepting our lot in life as it is. Unless we have the courage to change any part of our lives we don't like, we must accept it and NOT ACCEPT IT GRUDGINGLY.

COURAGE - We are asking for a quality of spirit to face conditions without flinching.

TO CHANGE - We are asking for conditions to be different.

THE THINGS I CAN - We are asking for help to make a right decision. If you have to make a decision consider carefully the worst that could happen to you IF YOUR DECISION TO CHANGE DID NOT WORK OUT. If you can accept the worst and your decision will get you out of a rut then proceed.

WISDOM - We are asking for the ability to form sound judgements in any matter.

TO KNOW - We want to understand clearly a truth of fact.

THE DIFFERENCE - We want to see things differently in our lives so there can be some distinction. We need to sense a definite value in sobriety over drunkenness if we are to stay sober.

ASK ONLY IN LIFE FOR WISDOM AND ALL OTHER THINGS FOLLOW IN LINE

HEARD IT THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE

Your Editor's Corner

It was once suggested to me, "Be kind to the newcomer; for one day they may be your sponsor." Therefore, in this month of January, I often reflect on the experience, strength and hope that was freely shared with me when I first arrived in Alcoholics Anonymous. I was completely broken, in despair, and without any hope aside from the recognition that you were an alcoholic living a day at a time without the use of alcohol. I was utterly defeated and absolutely willing to put my faith and trust in you. Consequently, when I recently overheard an AA share, "We don't kick a man when he's down!" the sentiment warmed my heart and took me right back to the beginning.

I didn't understand, "Keep Coming Back" until I was in, out and made the decision to come back to A.A. The group remained united to welcome me back. Since that time, individual members have come and gone, but not before sharing messages with me like: "I guess I made a decision," "Keep it Simple," "You might want to consider getting a new sponsor," "Expectations are merely premeditated resentments," "It's not a requirement to come off that pink cloud," and "My happiness is directly proportional to my level of gratitude and inversely proportional to my level of expectation."

For me, if I want to make God laugh, I make plans. My experience suggests that I never know when His message is going to come (or from whom or what for that matter). For this AA, attending A.A. meetings and practicing these principles means experiencing the promise of sobriety. I dare say that Ebby T. had no idea of the impact that his period of sobriety and sponsorship of Bill W. would have on so many sick and suffering alcoholics. Identically, those of you who have carried and continue to carry the message to me, have no idea of the definite impact your words and actions have made on my quality of life today. For you, I am eternally grateful. For you are the most compelling evidence of unconditional love that I know.

Ultimately, "This we owe to A.A.'s future: To place our common welfare first; To keep our Fellowship united. For on A.A. unity depend our lives, And the lives of those to come." The newcomer and our friends who have experienced a slip as a part of their journey have the exceptional opportunity to "Keep Coming Back" to Alcoholics Anonymous. Straightaway, We welcome all with a desire to stop drinking.

Best wishes to all for a meaningful new year!

In love and service,

Chris L., Editor
